- Phones with default wireless-charging capabilities can be charged directly by placing the phone over the wireless-charging spot on top of the Pennline Power-Bank Organizer.
- Phones without this feature will require a Pennline Wireless-Charging receiver, which when connected with the phone's charging socket, converts even a non-wireless phone to a wireless-charging device when placed over the wireless-charging spot on top of the Pennline Power-Bank Organizer. This works with most of the latest phones.*

*Please note that there may be some phones that do not work even when connected with this Wireless-Charging Receiver.
